MAYOR

Public Order Under City of Los Angeles Emergency Authority

Issue Date: September 3, 2020

Subject: SAFER L.A.

Following the City's initial Safer at Home Order, Los Angeles was able to reduce the spread of COVID-19, stabilize our rate of hospitalization and COVID-19 patients treated in intensive care units, increase our testing capacity, supply protective equipment for healthcare workers and meet the State of California's criteria to resume some of the activities that were temporarily prohibited. We saw those successes because, in a short period of time and at an unprecedented scale, residents in every community embraced social distancing practices. We wore face coverings and diligently washed and sanitized our hands. We adopted these behaviors not just to protect ourselves, but to protect others.

Because of that early success, following the guidance set forth by the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health, the City progressively permitted more activities with certain modifications which were designed to ensure health and safety. But we must now respond to the reality that our public health data presents: that COVID-19 is spreading at a rate that threatens our medical system and the economy cannot fully get back on track until we have a handle on this virus.

We have consistently warned the public that, throughout this pandemic, it may become necessary to step backward and be more restrictive.

Now, following the guidance of the State of California, including its August 28, 2020 Blueprint for a Safer Economy, as well as the Los Angeles County Health Officer Order of September 2, 2020, the City is rebalancing some of the restrictions we saw in the early days of the pandemic. The overarching guidance is straightforward. Angelenos must minimize contact with others as much as possible. Even if you believe that the virus does not present a particular threat to you, consider the impact that your choices have on others. Because COVID-19 can be transmitted by someone who is unaware that she is carrying it, one person could be unknowingly infecting many people if she is not careful. Now is the time to think of our loved ones, friends, colleagues, fellow residents, and favorite businesses. The better we are now at staying apart, the sooner we will be able to come back together.

Under the provisions of Section 231(i) of the Los Angeles City Charter and Chapter 3, Section 8.27 of the Los Angeles Administrative Code, I hereby declare that the Safer L.A. Order, dated June 1, 2020 (subsequently revised), is withdrawn and superseded by this Order, which is necessary for the protection of life and property in the City of Los Angeles and is effective immediately:

1. Subject only to the exceptions outlined in this Paragraph and Paragraph 5 below, all persons living within the City of Los Angeles are hereby ordered to remain in their homes. Residents of the City of Los Angeles who are experiencing homelessness are exempt from this requirement. The City is working, along with partner government agencies and non-governmental organizations, to make more emergency shelters available for the unhoused residents of our City. City of Los Angeles officials and contracted partners responsible for homelessness outreach shall make every reasonable effort to persuade such residents to accept, if offered, temporary housing or shelter, as the Health Officer of the County of Los Angeles recommends that sheltering individuals will assist in reducing the spread of the virus and will protect the individual from potential exposure by allowing the individual access to sanitation tools. People at high risk of severe illness from COVID-19 and people who are sick are urged to stay in their residence to the extent possible except as necessary to seek medical care.

2. Subject only to the exceptions outlined in this Paragraph and Paragraph 5 below, all businesses within the City of Los Angeles are ordered to cease operations that require in-person attendance by workers at a workplace.
